Amusements

"A Rolling Stone."

Al H. Wilson, with everything new, including management, play, company and production, comes to the Colonial Tuesday, November 11, in "A Rolling Stone." The Louis B. Mayer company and Ben Stern have expended both money and good taste to make Mr. Wilson's position among prominent stars what they think his talent, both as actor and singer, entitles him to. With this end in view Robert Milton was engaged to stage Herbert Hall Winslow's comedy drama, and to select a cast made up of players, each one of whom must be exactly suited to the requirements of the part he or she was selected for. The scenic environments were chosen with equal care, and to add to the effect of the new songs composed by the star, half a dozen very young and pretty girls were engaged. Laura Lemmers, who has the principal female role, was formerly Grace George's leading woman, and Lizzie Wilson, sister of the star and prominent on both the vaudeville and legitimate stage, has a character role. Seats on sale tomorrow morning.

EUROPEAN ARTISTS

ARE HARD TO GET

Agent for Gentry Brothers Tells of Troubles Getting Foreign Performers to America.

Few persons who visit the great tented shows, which are distinctly an American institution, realize the work attendant upon organization. An insight to these difficulties is obtained when one familiar with them goes into the detail of the work necessary in getting such shows under way. A day or so ago an agent for Gentry Brothers all new feature shows, which will visit this city Wednesday, November 19, took into his confidence a man seeking enlightenment. To him the agent told of the difficulties in getting together the world's greatest artists, who are with the Gentry shows this season.

"No one realizes," said the agent, "what difficulties beset the managers of shows when they are booking acts which are a part of the show. To give one an idea of that I merely have to tell you a few of the details dependant upon the work."

"Last winter when our organizer went abroad he traveled for weeks incognito. He visited the circus buildings and the theaters, carefully scanning the many features to select those that would most please American audiences. Finally he decided upon the acts wanted and then his real work began."

"He sought the persons he wanted to bring to this country. They were skeptical, did not want to come to America and were afraid to trust themselves in this country away from home and friends. Consequently, it was up to a resourceful American to overcome these prejudices. Offers of salaries, far in excess of those paid in Europe, constituted the first attraction. Then with the aid of United States consuls, the foreigners were assured of the integrity of American institutions."

"After many weeks of negotiation contracts were closed by agents of Gentry Brothers shows. As a result they are presenting this season many things new to America. Among them are Bouchard and Blanchard, Germany's leading acrobats; Marcelle and Lennet, tumblers from Paris; the Cevene trio of ariel artists; Madam Heloise, the world's greatest equestrienne, and Capt. Bouchard, Spain's greatest animal trainer, who presents a wild animal act that is without peer."

"The greatest trouble with foreign performers," concluded the agent, "is teaching them American customs. However there are few foreigners who come here for a season that do not become American citizens. After the novelty wears off they realize the liberties of this country and become Americans."

The showman grabbed his suit cases and was gone.

PLEASANTRIES

Nothing Doing.
Oh, what a dreadful void it seems;
Oh, what a vacant space!
No ray of hope projects its beams
Athwart that dreary place.

Woe sits enthroned on every brow
But all in vain we rage.
Oh, what a desert it is now;
We mean the baseball page.

An Unlucky Man.
"Well, I'll pay you that dinner I lost on the Giants. What will you have?"
"I think I'll take steak and mushrooms."
"I'm afraid to take a chance on mushrooms. A man as unlucky as I am would be apt to get toadstools."

Looked Bad.
"You knew your lessons today," said the head of the team accusingly.
"Yes, captain."
"Well, let it pass this time, but it looks as if you were neglecting your football."

The Wrong Chap.
"Young man, you call regularly to see my daughter."
"I do."
"I want to know if your intentions are serious?"
"You must have the wrong man, Mr. Wombat. I call to collect the payments on her piano."

A Kind Man.
In town he buys nuts plump and good,
Then leaves the town behind
And scatters them around the wood,
For little boys to find.

Between Poets.
Two poets sat having a frugal glass.
"I wish Burns and Poe were with us tonight," said one. "We could have a rollicking time."
"I'd rather have Croesus here," said the other. "He could buy a few drinks. Those other fellows wouldn't have a cent."—Kansas City Journal.

COMFORT INSURANCE

Speaking of making sudden changes—did you ever want to heat up a room in a hurry? Perhaps you overslept. Perhaps the alarm did not ring. You are in a terrible hurry—

Then is the time when you will appreciate a

Cole's Original Air-Tight Wood Stove

From zero to seventy degrees Fahrenheit is a big jump—but it is an easy stunt for this remarkable heater.

Five minutes in time is all that is needed.

Think of what that means to you on a cold morning—of the time you save. No building of a new fire. You put in a fresh stick and away she goes.

That isn't all. You get a steady, controllable heat hour after hour.

Think what this means to your family—in illness prevented and doctor's bills avoided.

Think of what it means in comfort—quickly and cheaply furnished.

Then come in while it is still in your mind.

An inspection will decide the matter.

It is just the stove you need. Burns wood and lighter fuel.

"Cole's," the Original Patented Air-Tight Heater, is sold only by us

PARKER-ASTIN HARDWARE CO.

See the name "Cole's" is on the fed door of each stove. None genuine without it.
